Stephen Robertson

Limerick

There was an old Fellow of Girton who always made love with his shirt on. Saying "Now that I'm old, I do feel the cold and my breathing is rather uncertain."

This poem is reprinted from Slanting Lines, the website of the poems of Stephen Robertson, at https://www.slacktide.site/slanting_lines/